Ohio Republicans have filed claims for every office in sight.

Form states have passed the million mark in their vote. New York came first with 1,334,359; Pennsylvania second with 1,144,463; Illinois third with 1,089,825, and Ohio fourth with 1,015,025.

By an official order Cleveland has placed 38,000 federal office holders under the protection of the civil service laws. But he has no power to keep himself in office one day longer than the prescribed limits.

It is quite possible that President McKinley will have to state publicly that he will uphold the executive orders of President Cleveland in extending the provisions of the civil service system. The wild rush for office is almost unprecedented.

The rumor that General Weyler and his army is entirely surrounded by Maceo's troops and is liable to fall into the hands of the Cuban patriot leader is probably too good to be true. Such a fate, however, would be but the just due of the butcher of defenseless women and children.

A rumor is going the rounds that President-elect McKinley will take a hand in the senatorial problem in this state by offering Dr. W. G. Hunter a fat federal appointment upon the condition that he withdraw from the race; and that when his withdrawal is assured that the extra session will be called.

The rumor now comes that Tom Watson is "writing a history." With Bryan lecturing to the masses and classes at $3,000 a clip and Watson writing history, Arthur Sewall wants to get a clip-edged, or rather a silver lined, hustle on himself in order to keep up with the procession.

The unexpected decrease in the amount of government patronage through the ill-advised action of Grover has not at all dampened the ardor of the office seeker who risked all, etc., in the recent campaign. Applicants bob up as serenely as if the civil service ideas of Andrew Jackson were in favor at Washington.

According to the Hopkinsville "Banner" Major Crumbaugh, of that town has the collectorship of that district nailed down for keeps. The "Banner" announces "authoritatively" that the handsome Major has the longest pole and will knock off the permission, at the proper time. This is all very nice on paper.

Mr. Bayard, United States minister to England, has declined to accept the present that was being prepared for him by his English friends and admirers. The gift was to be ostensibly in recognition of Mr. Bayard's services in preserving peace and harmony between Great Britain and the United States; but the letters accompanying the popular subscription to the present show that the minister has been a favorite in England because his sympathies were more English than American, and because he has never missed an opportunity to show his Anglican feelings.

LATER reports from India are to the effect that the famine in that stricken land is vastly more severe and widespread than was at first supposed, and that the recent rains will alleviate the sufferings of the starving millions but slightly. Imaginations fail to conceive of the horrors of a famine where over seventy millions of people are in danger of death from starvation. The failure of the wheat crop in India is even more disastrous than the failure of the potato crop was in Ireland before diversification of crops was introduced in the Emerald Isle. When millions are starving the most comprehensive relief measures fall far short of furnishing adequate relief.

A CALM, DISPASSIONATE AND CONSERVATIVE

Of the President of the United States to Congress.

A Calm, Dispassionate and Conservative
Deliberation on the Cuban Question—General Governmental Affairs Discussed.

The Late Elections.

TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES: As representatives of the people in the legislative branch of our government you have assembled at this time to consider the affairs of our country and to enact laws for the government of our people. It is your duty to do so with a calm, dispassionate and conservative deliberation, and to give to the people the best laws that can be enacted for their benefit.

BROKE HIS ARM.

But It Happened Six Weeks Ago.

Dr. Frank Boyd was awakened about midnight last evening and called to attend a man at one of the hotels with a broken arm.

He sleepily donned his garments and gathered together an armful of splints, bandages and other essential articles and went down through the rain. When he arrived he was shown the man, who did not seem to have a broken arm, although it seemed to be giving him great pain.

"When did you break it?" inquired the doctor.

"About six weeks ago," was the reply.

The man only wanted an opiate, and he got it in large chunks.

Charity Ball.

We take pleasure in mentioning the charity ball that is to be given at the Palmer House on the 16th. Every one is very much interested and there will doubtless be some beautiful new costumes worn by the fair sex. It always speaks well for a city when its people interest themselves in charity. It shows enterprise, ambition and prosperity; a warmth of heart that encourages other good people to "come and dwell amongst us." Let every one lend their aid to this cause and give a ball that the city will be proud to remember.

The proceeds are to be donated to the "Geneva" fund, which as all residents know is a fund organized several years ago in order to give the children of the poor a merry Christmas time, distributing toys and good things so dear to the childish heart and appetite. This year the same same plan is to be pursued, get some hall or vacant store room, on Broadway if possible, and have a Christmas tree with all its attendant delights.

LIKE KILKENNY CATS.

Another Shanty Boat Fight Investigated.

Mrs. Sue Eggleston, her husband, Elmer, Maggie Roush and George Campbell, who live on shanty boats in Island creek, were in the police court this morning charged with engaging in a fight near the mouth of Island creek yesterday afternoon.

Judge Sanders "roasted" the two women, but let the men down easy. He said they were a bad lot, especially the Eggleston woman, who comes of bad stock. Maggie Roush is a pretty and respectable looking girl, but like old dog Tray, she is in bad company.

The fight that took place yesterday was a corker. It originated between George Campbell and the Eggleston woman, and after they had skinned each other, assisted by Maggie Roush, Elmer Eggleston arrived and he and Campbell renewed the difficulty.

Judge Sanders said he sympathized with Eggleston in having to pay his wife's fines, and fined her $10 and costs, and Eggleston and Maggie Roush $5 and costs each. He said he would give them until noon to execute a bond of $100 to keep the peace, and if they did not do so by that time he would consider the propriety of recognizing them for their good behavior. The case against Campbell was dismissed, it having been shown that he acted in the defensive.

The women and Eggleston all reprieved their fines this morning and Judge Sanders recognized them for their good behavior.

A BAD CASE.

Young Post Office Robbers Lodged In Jail.

Deputy United States Marshal Bullington, whose departure for Calhoun county after post office raiders was announced exclusively in the SUN yesterday, returned late in the afternoon with the three prisoners charged in the warrant with robbing post office at Brown's Grove, Calhoun county, on the night of November Eleventh last.

Their names are, Andy and Oatman Sanders and Orey Turnbow. They are all young men of the neighborhood, and entered the post office by breaking in the rear door. J. H. Brown is postmaster, and the following morning raised about $25 worth of stamps, and $1.75 of money order cash and some groceries.

Mr. J. W. Byrd, a well known citizen of the section, saw the young men when they carried their booty to Jake Turnbow's barn, and they afterwards offered him $60 to not inform on them. Learning that he intended to expose them they burned Turnbow's barn and skipped out, the loss being $1,000. The recent federal grand jury found indictments against them all.

Andy Sanders was taken before U. S. Commissioner J. R. Puryear yesterday afternoon and give a preliminary hearing, admitting his guilt. He was held over and in default of bond went to jail.

The other two men were arraigned before Commissioner Puryear this morning at 8 o'clock and also held, going to jail to await the next April term of the U. S. court.

Another lady sounds her praise for Roncado Tonic. All you people that suffer likewise will try it when too late.

Mrs. J. L. Putnam, No. 234 Adams street, says: "Roncado Tonic is indeed a fine medicine, and I advise all the ladies here in Paducah to try Roncado Tonic. It has helped me wonderfully. I have had pains in my back so bad that I could not sleep at night for the past year, and have been of a nervous temperament all my life; so bad that I could not thread a needle. I was weak, had no appetite, and I had tried all the patent medicines and could not get any relief. I had begun to think that nothing would give me relief. Some few weeks ago I saw the advertisement of Roncado Tonic in the paper, and bought a $1 bottle for 25 cents, and I can truthfully say that the use of one bottle of it effected was wonderful, and now my nervousness is all gone. I can thread a needle, my pains are all gone, my appetite has improved—in fact I feel like a new woman, and feel glad to call at the company's office and add my name to the many others on file, and hope all my friends will try one bottle."

Mrs. J. L. PUTNAM.

He weighs 145 pounds, although but eleven years age, and what is so remarkable he keeps growing.
